- Call Number: Coll085
- Dates: 1954-1978
- Size: 15 boxes (22.5 linear feet)

- Abstract: This collection of television scripts spans the 1950s through the 1970s and includes at least one script from 150 titles. Well-known shows include Batman (1965-1967), The Beverly Hillbillies (1961-1964), The Brady Bunch (1970-1972), Mission: Impossible (1968-1972), The Mod Squad (1968-1972), and The Partridge Family (1970-1971). Scope & Content

Arrangement

The television scripts are not divided into series. The scripts are arranged alphabetically by show title, and then chronologically within the show.

Note

This collection contains scripts from 150 television shows, dated from 1954 to 1978. In most cases only the scripts themselves are available; in a few instances contextual letters or fliers are included. The script cover sheets contain the television show and episode titles, script dates, projected filming dates, and in some cases the dates that the episode aired. Author information may be available. The scripts also often contain cues and other comments directing the action of the actors, but it is unknown who is the author of these comments. There is no dominant genre or distributor that connects this varied collection - dramas, comedies, live entertainment, and crime shows are all included, as are the major networks of ABC, CBS, and NBC.

Final production videos of the episodes are not available at UMBC; researchers are encouraged to search WorldCat or contact the UCLA Film and Television Archive.

The last two folders in the collection contain a catalog of radio shows, called "The Greatest Radio Shows," parts one and two. The catalog is undated.

Provenance Information

Provenance and Acquisition Information

The collection was purchased with the assistance of Library Director Antonio Raimo, prior to 1975. Additional materials were later purchased and added.

Processing Note

The collection was previously housed in alphabetical order and a paper inventory was available. In Fall 2010, Special Collections student assistant Dan German rehoused and arranged the scripts. Special Collections Archivist Lindsey Loeper created the finding aid.
